

my LISKEARD SIXTH FORM

Newsletter

The end is in sight...

We caught up with Mrs P on Saturday and went for a lovely walk along the coast. Tozer enjoyed the view but was glad he wasn't swimming. We were back on the moors today. As long as he can plunge himself within his depth, Tozer is a happy and cool dog.

Year 13

We are hoping to have results day in the quad but obviously this will be weather dependent and so will let you know nearer the time. We should know more about our celebration in September by that point too. We will keep you informed.

Year 12

This week is our last week of lessons!

If you haven't completed the survey sent through from Mr Lingard, please make this a priority this week. It is very important for us to have your feedback.

It has been lovely seeing you back in again and enjoying being back in the classroom. Don't forget that your online lessons are still happening this week as well. Your final update will come through from Mrs Fry.

We are in the office if you need to pop in for anything or just a chat.

Week Starting	Day	Option Block Subjects	Subjects
13th July	Thursday 16th	D	Chemistry, History, Maths (PNL), Health and Social Care, Psychology
	Friday 17th	E	Biol, Human Biol, F Maths, Drama, Media, Prod. Design

UCAS REGISTRATION

Well done to those who have registered now. If you haven't done so, then please pop in after your lessons to register. We would like you all to be registered for UCAS before the end of term. You will need the buzzword...This actually only takes about 10 minutes so after your lessons this week, please come into the common room and Mrs Fry will take you through the process.

It is vital that everyone does this whether you are thinking of university or another route after sixth form. This will be a central point for your personal statements and exam information.

Researching universities

Well done to those who have been attending the virtual open days. Some have been better than others but they are still worth looking at if you are considering that particular university.

This is another useful resource.

Mrs Carlin has also organised a work experience opportunity for you this week

Please check this out if you have an interest in any of the workshops.

Hello Year 10 & 12 Students at Liskeard School & Community College

We have organised a fantastic set of opportunities for you in the shape of our World of Work Explorer week.

Working in collaboration with 'Cities of Learning' we are offering you a week of interactive work related industry insight talks. You will have the opportunities to ask questions of local people in the Creative, Digital, Construction, Healthcare and Food Production industries about their skills, careers and how they overcame challenges.

The talks will be accessible via GoTo Webinar - log on details to follow. We will ask you to complete a pre-registration form and an evaluation form afterwards. The school will be issuing their first ever World of Work Explorer digital badges to those who complete their evaluations!

Monday 13 July @2pm Digital & Creative Industry
Tuesday 14 July @2pm Construction Industry
Wednesday 15 July @2pm Healthcare Industry
Thursday 16 July @2pm Food Production Industry

This is a brilliant and free way to boost your skills and gain a World of Work Explorer digital badge to demonstrate what you've learnt and researched. You can use the digital badges to showcase your efforts on social media, in your CV, on college applications and with your school to help you stand out from the crowd.

Black lives matter

I really liked this story when I watched it. I think young people have a voice too and however they share it, it can be really powerful.

This article is more controversial but well worth a read.

<https://www.bbc.co.uk/news/world-us-canada-53218448>

I think it is really important not to be apathetic to issues that affect our society. It can be really easy to ignore them, saying that they don't affect us where we are. We need to educate ourselves so that we don't keep making the same mistakes over and over again.

Thought for the week

I am tired. I am really tired and most definitely ready for summer holidays to be here. I am looking forward to having two weeks where I do no school work at all (other than water the orchids and plants). When I am tired, I become irritable and I can seriously be found wanting in the patience department.

Rest is important.

During lockdown I have really come to appreciate having free time. I am still working through feeling slightly guilty at sitting down to watch a film at 9pm but I tell myself that I can do this.

Work can be so all consuming and I know I need to keep this better work life balance.

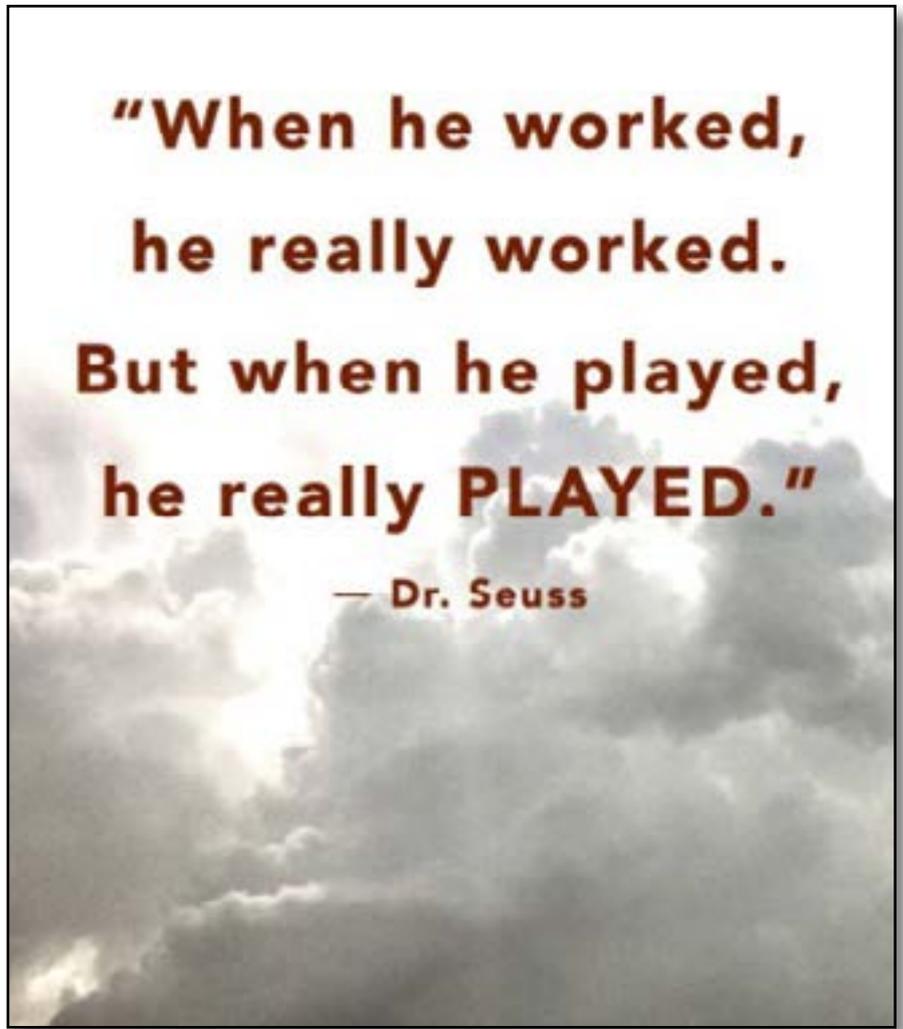

So here's the challenge to think about: time management – making the most of the hours I have to do the work that I need to.

My old maths teacher always used to go by the mantra "Work hard, play hard!" He played squash a lot and was very good at it. Perhaps he was also a fan of Dr Seuss... I need to make sure I don't waste time as I will never get it back and that will be my challenge for next year.

But summer is almost here!

As we finish this most bizarre year, let us enjoy our freedom and have time with friends and family. Go for those walks and days out and make sure we relax and have fun. Laugh a lot and enjoy where we live.

We will always need to be sensible with social distancing but we can still have a good time and be there for one another.

Have a great summer holiday.
