Newsletter

Message from the Sixth Form Team

Another week gone and only one more until half term. We have seen an easing of some of the lockdown measures. Tozer was delighted as he could go for a haircut.

Here he is before haircut

And here he is afterwards, checking out the blue chairs in the common room.

Hopefully we shall be seeing some of you after half term at some point but more details on that will be coming out after all parents have completed the questionnaire and we can assess the situation. In the meantime, keep going with your subjects. Some of you have mentioned that you are doing more than a couple of hours. Don't worry if you are as you would have been doing that, if you were here in college. We will all be having a break over half term so no online lessons next week and no newsletter.

Year 13

It's time to apply for student finance!

Time is running out if you want your student finance in place by the time your term begins.

Deputy CEO of the Student Loans Company, David Wallace, is advising students thinking about going to university for the first time this autumn to complete their funding applications online as soon as possible.

New students are being asked to submit their applications before 22 May 2020.

In other words, this Friday!

Applications for student finance can be made here:

<https://www.gov.uk/student-finance>

The Student Loans Company has updated their guidance for prospective students to include guidance for those whose academic year is extended because of the coronavirus outbreak and for migrant worker student applicants.

The guidance can be found here:

<https://www.gov.uk/guidance/guidance-for-current-students>

Any problems, please contact the office.

Thinking ahead to starting university, have a look at this Vimeo channel with advice from students living away from home at the end of their first year at university.

The first one explores Results Day; it's interesting how many students describe how it felt and how they prepared for it.

Year 12

Over the last few weeks, I have given lots of ideas of different websites to browse and look at, as well as informative talks that will enhance your applications. I know some of your teachers have also emailed you with different opportunities too. Please take some time this week to go back over these and check a few out. You can find all the sixth form newsletters on the school website too, if you don't want to check through your emails.

UniTasterDays is another useful website to have a browse through. There are lots of useful links here.

A promotional banner for UniTasterDays. The top section is green with the UniTasterDays logo and a 'View Online' link. The middle section is blue with the text 'UNI TASTER TUESDAYS' and 'Weekly university guidance webinars #UTDIAG'. Below this, it says 'Guest universities - Q&A opportunities - Every Tuesday'. On the right, there is an image of a laptop and a coffee cup with a 'CLICK TO FIND OUT MORE' button. The bottom section is green with two buttons: 'Search all events' and 'Request an event'.

Apprenticeships

If you have not thought about apprenticeships then have a look at this:

<https://www.ukuniversitysearch.com/> have Webinar Wednesday every week at 12:00. This Wednesday 20th is all about apprenticeships where you will have the opportunity to ask the experts some questions. If you can't make it or want to watch some of their other Webinars then they can be found on YouTube

Thought for the week

We have spoken to many of you and have been very pleased with how you have been holding up during lockdown. It will be a slow road to the end of lockdown so keep going. Make sure you contact your friends and have people you can talk too. If you are having a bad day, that is OK as it will pass. Give yourself time and be patient with yourself.

I came across this formula for living the other day and it has some good advice for all of us.

And finally, here is my challenge to each and every one of us.

I hope you all have a good half term.
